Deckendorff in Bavaria, November 10, N. S.

THE 3d we arrived at Mickelnewkirke, three Miles from Straubing; the Day before our Silesian Butcher made a considerable Capture, and brought us in 20 Prisoners; at our Arrival here we found large Quantities of Arms, Bayonets, Swords, Muskets, Shoes and Cloaths, intended for the Bavarian Land Militia, of which we made good Use. Our Contributions come in plentifully, and tho' the Country is pretty well exhausted, we hope they will increase on our Hands. The 5th we arrived at Ascha, from whence the Generals Geiseruck and Tornaw, with all the Pandours and Croates, and 20 Companies of Grenadiers were detached, as also Bernes's Regiment of Cuirassiers, in order to take Deckendorff. Colonel Trenck had already begun with burning the Suburbs, and on the Approach of our Generals, and summoning the Town, the Garrison surrender'd without firing one Shot. It was commanded by a Lieutenant Colonel of Minuzzi's Regiment, who went lately from our Service, two Majors, one Captain who belong'd also to us, and three Lieutenants; there was two free Companies, one of 77, the other of 80 Men, a Troop of Horse of 26 Men, a Command of 40 Men of Minuzzi's Regiment and Preysing's with 40 Dragoons: The rest were made up of our Deserters and some regular Troops, in all 400 Men, with three Pieces of Cannon; the Officers are sent to Passau, from whence we shall soon know their Fate. Our Pontoons are just arrived, and our Bridge was finished in seven Hours Time. We have also taken Henersberg with 76 Prisoners, and all the little Posts and Castles on the Danube, so that we are Masters of all that River from hence to Passau, and consequently of the greatest Part of Bavaria. General Geisenick has pass'd this Afternoon with the Van-Guard, consisting of 18 Companies of Grenadiers and a Regiment of Horse, all the Waradiners, and 200 Hussars. And Lieutenant General Damnitz has begun forming, with Thungen's, Hilburgshausen's, young Konigsegg, Savoy, and Cordue, our Posts from the Danube along the Isser, which we shall extend as far as Landshut, where our Head Quarters are intended. What is extraordinary is, that as the Enemy had broke down all the Bridges on the Danube, with 10,000 Men they might have prevented our passing, or disputed it, so that we could not have taken Possession as we have done, of the most fertile Parts of the Electorate of Bavaria. It is confirm'd that the French Cavalry is almost ruin'd. Letters from Konigsal in Bohemia of the 10th Instant advise, that on Prince Lobcowitz's Approach, 400 French of the Garrison of Prague, retir'd with such Precipitation, that they left their Bridge on the Beraun, without breaking it down; that they have likewise done the same at Melnitz, Brandois, &c. and also left their Bridge on the Elbe in the Hussars Possession; that they were once more confin'd, and Sickness begun to make great Ravage amongst them, tho' their Desertion also had been very great towards Saxony for some time past. Prince Lobcowitz expected in a few Days to be able to shut up the Town entirely, and as the Garrison must want many Necessaries, it was hoped in his Army that they could not hold out long.

From the Austrian Camp near Tummelsdorff, Nov. 16.

On the 12th and 13th Instant the Great Duke's Army passed the Danube at Nieder Altaich, and came the 14th to the Camp at St. Marien Kirchen. On the 15th, about Seven in the Morning, his Royal Highness set out for Vienna; Prince Charles now again commands in Chief; his Army is divided into three Corps; the Prince has one with him of about 20,000 Men, Marshal Khevenhuller has another near Landau, exceeding that Number by at least 20 Companies of Grenadiers of 50 Men each, besides two Regiments of Cuirassiers; and General Berenclau is at Scharding with the Third, of about 8000. The whole French Army, except a Detachment of 12 or 13,000 Men under Count Saxe, which has passed by Straubing, and advances towards the Isser, stood lately between Donaustoff and Ratisbon, but is at present said to be marching towards Dingelfingen: Its Force is not certainly known, tho' guessed, by Appearance, to be near 40,000, besides Seckendorf's Corps, which, with Militia, Peasants, &c. may be reckoned at 14,000, and was some Days ago at Braunau. Prince Charles rested the 15th, and this Day marched to Schonau, which is about four Hours. The Weather and the Roads could not be worse, yet his Troops seem neither weary or dejected. Marshal Khevenhuller being on his Way to Dingelfingen, received Orders to go on to Pfarkirchen. Nov. 17. Marshal Broglio has crossed the Isser at Dingelfingen, and prevented Marshal Khevenhuller. Count Saxe is got over the Danube with 10,000 Men near Ober Altaich, and will probably endeavour to recover Deckendorf, the March therefore to Pfarkirchen is set aside. On the contrary, Prince Charles is marched to the left, and into the Camp by Tummelsdorff: A Detachment of Hussars is indeed gone to Pfarkirchen with counter Orders to the Baggage and Quarter Master there: Lieutenant General Philibert, who commands about 1000 Horse, is also to quit the Camp at Schonau: General Damnitz, who is at Deckendorff with one Regiment of Infantry, and one of Cavalry, has Orders to abandon the Place when the Enemy appears, and to retreat with Lieutenant General Brettlatch to Passau. The Bridges thrown over the Danube at Neider Altaich have, in Consequence of these Motions, been taken away, and no more will be laid. The Pontoons, which might reach Ober Altaich the 16th or 17th Instant, seem to be in Danger. Marshal Khevenhuller is likewise ordered to come back from Landau this Way. To-morrow the Army marches again, but whereto it is not yet declared.

Vienna,

Vienna, Nov. 17. We hear from Bavaria, that on the 13th Inſtant General Geiſeruck, who forms the Vanguard of the Auſtrian Army, with a Body of Huſſars, ſome Infantry, and Croates, having found a Garriſon of French at Landau upon the Iſſer, commanded by Count Clinieres a Colonel, ſummoned them to ſurrender, but that they refuſed, anſwering that they expected to be ſuccoured by two Battalions from Straubing: Whereupon General Gieſeruck broke down the Bridge over the Iſſer, and having waited for the Arrival of the ſaid two Battalions, ſoon diſperſed them with his Cannon; after which, upon his preparing to attack the Town Sword in Hand, the Garriſon ſurrendred Priſoners of War: They conſiſted of four Companies of French Grenadiers, ſome Bavarian Foot, and 150 Bavarian Horſe. We have a Report from Paſſau, that Seckendorf had been joined at Braunau by 10,000 French Foot; but it is thought hardly credible in Point of Time. The Great Duke is expected To-night from the Army, where he has been greatly indiſpoſed.

From the Camp at Aitenbach, Nov. 19.

The Army is marched hither, and in order to bring up all the Baggage, has been obliged to ſeparate as To-day, yet Orders are given out for marching To-morrow, but to what Place is not publickly known. Marſhal Khevenhuller is arrived with his Corps at Allersbach, an Hour from hence: He marches immediately towards the Danube, which River he is to paſs, and, as is given out, to defend Deckendorff, which is not abandoned, the French not being got nearer to it than one Hour on this Side of Ober Altaich. The Pontoons that were to be ſent to this laſt mentioned Town received their counter Orders in Time, and are ſaved. Philibert is arrived likewiſe To-day with his Detachment from Tummelsdorff, as is the Lieutenant Colonel with his Huſſars from Pfarkirchen. General Brettlach is ſaid to be at Bogen near Deckendorff, where General Damnitz ſtill is, and in a Condition to keep their Poſts, the Enemy's Detachment appearing now to be not above 6000 Men at moſt.

Berlin, Nov. 24. Count Richecourt, the Queen of Hungary's Miniſter, had his publick Audience of the King of Pruſſia on the 20th Inſtant, who received him with all poſſible Marks of Diſtinction.

Dreſden, Nov. 28. We had an Account here on the 26th Inſtant, that General Wallis had taken by Aſſault, the Day before, Leuthmeritz, and the Garriſon, reported to be upwards of 600 French, Priſoners of War; and had, though with much Difficulty, ſaved the latter from the Fury of his Troops; as he alſo had the Magazine, contrary to the Intention of the Beſieged, which was to burn it. This is not the ſmalleſt Advantage ariſing from his Succeſs, moſt of what remains of the Proviſions bought in Saxony being thought to be ſtill there, and on which the Garriſon of Prague in great Meaſure relied. The Attack began at One in the Morning, and the Auſtrians were Maſters of the Town at Eight. The Croates behaved with great Bravery. We hope to have more Particulars of that Action by next Poſt.

Dublin, November 20.

Yeſterday being the Birth-Day of her Royal Highneſs the Princeſs of Wales, the Great Guns were fired at the Barracks, and anſwered by Vollies from the Regiments in Garriſon, which were drawn out upon Oxmantown Green. At Noon there was a ſplendid Appearance of the Nobility and other Perſons of Diſtinction to compliment the Lords Juſtices upon this Occaſion; and at Night there was a Play given by their Excellencies, for the Entertainment of the Ladies.

Whitehall, November 27.

His Majeſty has been pleaſed to conſtitute and appoint the Honourable William Murray, Eſq; to be his Sollicitor General, in the Room of Sir John Strange, Knight, who has reſigned.

If the Author of the Letter ſigned John, will wait on the Gentleman to whom it was written, at his Houſe any Morning, he will be glad to receive his Propoſals, and talk with him thereupon.

Whitehall, November 16. 1742.

Whereas it has been repreſented to His Majeſty, that John Griffin, Superviſor of Exciſe, at Sevenoaks in the County of Kent, was, on the 20th paſt, aſſaulted in the Execution of his Duty at the Houſe of William Drewry, a Victualler, at Helden, by ſeveral Perſons unknown, and grievouſly beat and bruiſed, inſomuch that his Life is in great Danger from the Wounds he there received: For the better diſcovering, and bringing to Juſtice the Perſons, who committed the ſaid Crime, His Majeſty is pleaſed to promiſe His moſt gracious Pardon to any one of the Perſons concerned therein, who ſhall diſcover his Accomplice, or Accomplices, ſo as he, or they may be apprehended and convicted thereof.

HOLLES NEWCASTLE.

Exciſe-Office, London, Nov. 12, 1742.

Whereas John Griffin, Superviſor of Exciſe at Seven Oaks in the County of Kent, was, on the 20th of October laſt, in the Execution of his Duty, aſſaulted at the Houſe of William Drewry, a Victualler, at Helden, by ſeveral Perſons unknown, and was grievouſly beat and abuſed, inſomuch that his Life is in great Danger from the Wounds he there received: The Commiſſioners of Exciſe do hereby give Notice, that if any Perſon will make Diſcovery of the Perſons concerned in the ſaid Aſſault, ſo as they, or any of them, may be brought to Juſtice, ſuch Perſon ſhall, upon Conviction of any of the Offenders, receive the Reward of Two Hundred Pounds, to be paid at their Office in the Old Jewry; And in caſe any of the Perſons concerned will make diſcovery of his Accomplices, ſo as they, or any of them may be convicted of the ſaid Aſſault, he ſhall receive the Reward as aforeſaid.

General Poſt Office, London, July 3, 1742.

Whereas divers Perſons, thro' Ignorance or Careleſneſs, frequently put Letters into the General Poſt Offices, and the Receiving Houſes both in Town and Country, directed on board of Ships, and to Foreign Parts, without paying at the ſame Time the Poſtage, as ought to be done; And whereas Letters and Packets are often put into the ſaid Offices with Money and Rings incloſed, and in Fraud of his Majeſty's Revenue, divers Perſons preſume to ſend Letters with falſe and counterfeit Franks; This is to acquaint the Publick, that no Letters under any of the Circumſtances aforeſaid have any Right by Law to be forwarded.

Note, That Letters going out of Great Britain (except to France, Holland, and Flanders) have by the ancient Uſage of this Office paid the Foreign Poſtage, and are required by the Act of Parliament ſo to do, at the Office in Great Britain where the ſame are firſt put in.

Note alſo, That if ſuch Letters to Foreign Parts are put into any of the Country Offices, the Inland Poſtage of ſuch Letters to London muſt alſo be paid on putting the ſame into ſuch Office.

By Command of the Poſt Maſter General,

George Shelvocke, Secretary.

General Poſt-Office, London, Sept. 29, 1742.
